

CHAIRMAN GOTT WILL ATTEND "EL" MEETING

Chairman Hollis M. Gott will represent the Board of Selectmen this evening at a meeting at the Boston Chamber of Commerce to which the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway have invited the mayors of the cities and the selectmen of the towns in which their lines operate. At this meeting the matter of transportation in all of these towns will be considered with the object of bettering the service in every way possible.

In a letter to the trustees, which was published in last week's Advocate, the Selectmen described the crowded condition of Elevated cars and trains as "intolerable", objected to one-man cars being run during rush hours and asked for the alleviation of conditions now existing. The action taken by the new board of Elevated trustees in calling the "get together" this evening gives hope that they may grasp vigorously Arlington's transportation problems and make easier the life of the travelling public.

Frank V. Noyes Again Made President of Bank

At the annual meeting of the Arlington National Bank, held Tuesday, January fifteenth, Mr. Frank V. Noyes was again elected to serve as its president. Mr. Noyes has served the bank in that capacity ever since it was organized, which was in 1920.

The other officers are: George S. R. McLean, vice-president; Edward C. Hildreth, cashier; and Ernest L. Parsons, assistant cashier. The first three and the following men were re-elected to the board of directors: Herbert F. Allen, Rufus W. Blake, Guilford D. Brown, David Buttrick, Herbert L. Cox, David C. Dow, William S. Hall, N. J. Hardy, Philip A. Hendrick, George H. Rice, William Taintor. Frank M. Archer, Jr., was the only new director elected to the board. Mr. Archer is associated as a director or officer with various New England corporations, chief among which is the Moxie Company of America, of which he is director, treasurer and general manager.

SCHOOL BUDGET INCREASE LESS THAN ATTENDANCE

Finance Committee Putting In Some Strenuous Work

One of the busiest town bodies just now is the Finance Committee. The various boards have sent in their requests for the coming year. If all the money is granted, the tax rate is sure to go upward. The departments have asked for over $200,000.00 more than last year. In order to keep down the tax rate there will have to be some wholesale cutting done. It may be that the new streets will have to go over for another year in order that the departments may have sufficient money to carry on the work required of them.

Superintendent of Schools Chester N. Moody is busy making out the school budget for the consideration of the annual Town Meeting in March. His work is nearly enough completed so that he is able to state positively that the increase in the amount which the schools will ask for over that of last year is less than was the increase in attendance. The attendance of 1928 showed an increase of nine per cent over that of 1927, while only a little over eight per cent additional appropriation will be asked for.

Last year there was a net increase of 475 pupils. Of these two hundred

Captain Jack Hutchinson of Arlington and the B. A. A. hockey team, has authored a formidable aggregation about him, judging from the names under the above illustration. Those in Arlington who follow hockey will recognize most of the faces shown as those of fine players of a few years back.

But the lad in the picture in whom we are most interested, is Channing Hilliard. Coach Hutchinson started him against Harvard Wednesday night in the Boston Garden. "Chan" is probably the youngest member on the B. A. A. team, but he is always bound to make his presence felt, if he lives up to his old standards.

Hilliard played for four years on the High School team, and was perhaps the chief reason why Arlington stood so high in hockey circles for the past few years. "Chan" is small, but they don't make them much faster

Selectmen Protest Against Discontinuance of Busses

MANAGER DANA HEARS FROM DIRECTORS OF CHAMBER

As has been stated in another column of this newspaper, the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce on Friday of last week voted to send a letter to Edward A. Dana, General Manager of the Boston Elevated Railway, complaining of the inadequate service given to the citizens of Arlington in the matter of

HYDRANTS TESTED BY PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT

This week's cold snap, coming when there was little snow on the ground, made it seem possible that the hydrants might have frozen. Accordingly the Department of Public Works sent men out to make sure that every hydrant in town was in working order. Hydrants on Court and Medford streets were found frozen. The one in front of the Russell School was broken. Workmen, who were busy during the week repairing it, had the street there dug up for two days.

OFFICER FLYNN HONORED BY HIS ASSOCIATES

Thomas J. Flynn was elected president of the Police Relief Association at the annual meeting of the organization held at Police Headquarters Monday afternoon. Other officers elected were: John J. Roche, vice-president; Archie Bullock, secretary; Sergt. Harold R. Pick, treasurer; Thomas M. Sullivan, Charles O. Toomey, Thomas F. Keefe, T. Frank Meagher and Thomas M. Burns, board of directors; Sergt. E. C. Jacobs, William P. Mahoney and Felix Lopez, auditors.

A HELP APPRECIATED BY AUTO DRIVERS

The drivers of automobiles surely appreciate sanding the entrance to streets by the Board of Public Works, especially where there is a grade to make. It is a preventive against accidents. It has been suggested that the purchase of a sanding machine might not prove expensive, in view of the fact that it could be used in connection with the work of tarring or oiling the streets during the summer repair work on the roads.

The Board of Selectmen have written a letter to the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway protesting against the proposed discontinuance of the buses running from the corner of Pleasant street and Massachusetts avenue, through Belmont to Watertown Square. A notice posted this week states that the service will be discontinued after Saturday. The reason given for this action is that the volume of patronage is not sufficient to make the line pay. They say that about five hundred passengers a day ride on the buses and that this means a loss of about two thousand dollars a month.

On their side the Selectmen claim that the line has not been in operation long enough to determine conclusively that it cannot be operated so as to be self-supporting. The buses began to run on the twelfth of October. At the time that the Elevated filed its petition for a license to operate on Pleasant street, the Selectmen had before them the petition of the Hart Motor Bus Company to run a line over the same route. The letter follows:—

Gentlemen:—It has been brought to the attention of this Board that the busses operating on the Arlington to Watertown Route have been posted for the discontinuance of the service after Saturday, January 19, 1929.

This Board wishes to go on record as being most emphatically opposed to taking away this service at the present time. We contend that the operation of this line for the past three months is too short a period of time to determine, conclusively, that this service cannot be operated so as to be self-supporting.

We most urgently request that you reconsider your decision to discontinue, and that the trial time be extended at least another three months.

Respectfully yours,

HOLLIS M. GOTT,
LUKE A. MANNING,
ARTHUR P. WYMAN,

Board of Selectmen of the Town of Arlington, Massachusetts.

Two Candidates In Field For Board of Public Works

In an endeavor to get a line on possible candidates for the office of member of the Board of Public Works, the reporter finds that for the unexpired term of William S. Fairchild there will be two candidates—Walter Elliott and Walter Robinson, the latter now serving out his term as member of the board.

For the three year term, the candidate probably will be Francis L. Dalton.

It is understood that William O. Hauser will not be a candidate for the Board of Public Works this year, but will be a candidate for the office of Selectman next year. That is looking considerably far ahead.

—Miss Campbell, teacher of cooking at the High school, has been absent because of an attack of quinsy.

Calvary Methodists Meet Officers of Church

More than a hundred enjoyed the turkey supper which was served last Friday evening at Calvary M. E. church on the occasion of the Family Night Supper. Rev. Charles T. Allen, pastor of the church, who was introduced as toastmaster by Mr. F. H. Robinson, president of the Board of Trustees, had the officials of the church stand and presented them to those present, so that they and the members of the church might become better acquainted. He asked the charter members, of whom there proved to be sixteen present, to stand. There was also a good representation of the board of stewards. When the church members were asked to rise, it was found that only three or four of those present were not members.

Miss Mildred Brookings sang two groups of songs, accompanied by Mr. Carl Nelson, and Mr. Morris led the community singing. The speaker of the evening was Rev. Frederick Olsen, pastor of the Church of All Nations. Taking as his subject "The Harmony of the Ages", he described the beautiful things of the world that might be found if people only looked for them—as an optimist surely would. As the reverse of the picture he showed the pessimist as the darkest and gloomiest of individuals, so that his hearers went home resolved to look for the beautiful in the world.

SUFFOLK LODGE LADIES' NIGHT AND NEW YEAR'S PARTY

Suffolk Lodge of Odd Fellows, No. 8, held their New Year's party and Ladies Night in their hall at 4 Berkeley street, Boston. The entertainment, under the direction of Florence Anderson and several of her girls, members of Ida F. Butler Lodge of Rebekahs, put on a very delightful sketch, entitled "Back to the School", in one act. The cast was as follows: "Tadpole", "Dot", "Brenton", "Daisy", "Luvine", "Austin", "Enid", "Elsie Campbell", "Connie", "Edith Logan", "Blanche", "Gladys Croft", the servant, Alice, Brenton; the teacher, Florence Anderson. other entertainment, Miss Elaine Downs gave dances, Miss Dorothea Homer, readings; also Miss Adele Mason, the latter of Lexington; Miss Alice Brenton, violin numbers and dances, with Miss Ruth Griffin as the accompanist.

The girls have several engagements in the future. One at the Park Avenue Congregational church, January 25th; the Presbyterian church, Inman square, Somerville, the first of February; and in Billerica the middle of February.

ST. AGNES COURT HOLDS INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS

The officers of St. Agnes Court, C. D. of A., were installed on Monday evening, in G. A. R. hall, by District Deputy Mrs. Mary Cross and suite, of Malden, at which a large number of the members were present, also guests from Belmont, South Boston and Malden. The following officers were installed: Mrs. Mary F. McCarthy, regent; Mrs. Josephine Silvery, vice-regent; Mrs. Harriette Denvir, prophetess; Miss Kathryn Merrigan, historian; Miss Josephine Dacey, financial secretary; Mrs. Anna L. Callahan, treasurer; Miss Anna B. Callahan, lecturer; Mrs. Agnes Higgins, monitor; Mrs. Alice Priest, sentinel; Mrs. Ethyl M. Clancy and Mrs. Sarah Linahan, trustees; Mrs. Anna M. Driscoll, organist.

Following the installation, the regular business meeting took place at which time the reports of the different committees were read by Mrs. Catherine A. McCarthy, chairman of the Visiting committee; Mrs. Josephine M. Frazer, chairman of the Entertainment committee; Mrs. Mary F. McCarthy, of the Charity Committee, and the Auditor's report by Mrs. Ellen A. Morrissey. The report of the Charity committee was most interesting, and showed that the Court had accomplished a great deal of good during the past year, and the Auditor's report disclosed that the Court was in good financial standing.

Rev. Matthew J. Flaherty, the Court's chaplain, congratulated the Court on its work as did also some of the visiting guests, who were especially interested in the fine report of the Charity committee.

Following the meeting an entertainment, arranged by the lecturer, Miss Anna B. Callahan, was given, and consisted of vocal and piano selections by Mrs. Anna M. Driscoll; readings, Miss Marion Cameron, and vocal and piano selections by Misses Helen and Irene Tafe.

After the entertainment, refreshments were served in the lower hall by Hardy the caterer, assisted by the trustees, and consisted of sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cake from prettily decorated tables.

It was to be regretted that the Past Regent, Mrs. Ethyl M. Clancy, was unable to be present on account of illness, and the Court will recognize its appreciation of her services at a future date. The Court was pleased to see among its members, Mrs. Ellen A. Morrissey, who has recovered from a long siege of illness.

The Court will hold its next meeting Monday evening, January 28, in G. A. R. hall, at 7.30, followed by an old time minstrel show for the members and lady friends.

Wm. E. Luxford Awarded Prize By Edison Company

Mr. William E. Luxford, of 11 Jason court, besides winning the prize for Arlington, has been awarded the grand prize offered by the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, for the best display of decorative lighting during the holidays in the communities served by that company.

Considering the many houses that were decorated this season, far more than in previous years, and the large number of cities and towns in the territory where the Edison Company operates, Arlington may justly feel proud of the honor which Mr. Luxford has received. During the holidays many compliments on the beauty of the display were extended to him. The arrangement and all the work of wiring were done by Mr. Luxford. The conditions of the contest required originality, expression of the holiday spirit and artistic effect. The grand prize offers a choice of a number of valuable equipments, including an electric refrigerator. This will be the prize selected by Mr. Luxford.

This is the third year Mr. Luxford has decorated his home at the Christmas holiday. He also always makes a fine display for Halloween. The house, which faces Jason street, lends itself admirably for such decorations as carried out by Mr. Luxford who, by the way, was not aware of any contest offered by the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, until after he had completed his work, which converted the outside of the home into a fairyland.

Quantities of laurel ropes, window boxes filled with spruce, miniature Christmas trees, illuminated stars, and two hundred lights effectively placed, made a picture that brought many to view the decoration.

The Edison Electric Illuminating Company has considered the house of sufficient merit to invite Mr. Luxford to send a photograph of it, taken by the company, to the New York Electrical Show, to be held in that city the latter part of this week.

ARLINGTON RIFLE CLUB ELECTIONS HENRY FINLEY PRESIDENT

The annual meeting of the Arlington Rifle Club was held Tuesday evening in the club house of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association, the parent club of the organization. The evening opened with a banquet served by the Hardy Catering Company, with the retiring president, Walter F. Gurney, presiding. The new officers chosen for the coming year were Henry Finley, president; Paul Preston, vice-president; Melvin H. Chapin, secretary and treasurer; J. S. Hoffman, A. F. Randall and Francis Vossahlik, range officers; and Walter F. Gurney, team captain.

The club made plans for the coming season. Matches of the past season were discussed, and an evening of special interest prevailed.

COOPER BARBER AND BEAUTY SHOPPE UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

The attitude which is characterized by the phrase, "Good Workmanship Advertiseth Itself", is reflected each day in the class of work performed by The Cooper Barber and Beauty Shoppe, at Cooper's Corner, 445 Mass. avenue, Arlington Centre.

Since the new management has taken over the business, there has been a steady growth in patronage, which is attributed to the character of the courteous service given to men, women and children, and the sanitary and hygienic conditions under which all work is performed.

Mr. Ralph Labriola, formerly of the Province Bldg., Boston, has charge of the barber shop. Mr. Frank Natalie, formerly of Fern and Goroff's beauty shop, is in charge of the newly installed Beauty Parlor, which is separate from the men's shop. Here a specialty is made of the latest styles in feminine hair-dress, including the Theatrical, Swirl and Wind Blown Bobs. Marcel and Finger Waving, Scalp treatments, Facial Packs and Eye Brow Shaping are also done by competent beauty culturists. For appointment, call ARL. 4493.

Fifty Years Ago This Week

Annual Meeting.—The attendance at the annual meeting of the Arlington W. C. T. Union in Reynolds Hall, last Tuesday afternoon, was excellent and betokened a degree of interest in the work that is most encouraging. The following is the full list of officers chosen:—president, Mrs. James R. Cutler; vice-presidents, Mrs. G. Clinton Whittemore, Mrs. Rodney J. Hardy; secretary, Miss Nellie S. Hardy; treasurer, Miss Nellie Weston; executive committee—Mrs. David P. Green, Mrs. J. Lewis Merrill, Mrs. Edna W. Noyes, Mrs. Ammi Hall, Mrs. John H. Hartwell, Miss Flagg, Mrs. George Swann.

The snow storm of last Thursday covered a wide extent of territory. About nine inches fell in this neighborhood. The 2.40 p. m. train from Boston on the Middlesex Central Branch was about twenty minutes late at Arlington and still later at Lexington. The 6.25 train also experienced some difficulty in passing the crossing at Arlington avenue. The other trains went through without trouble and nearly on time. Late in the evening the snow plow went over the road, leaving it in good condition.

The Menotomy Club made their janitor, Mr. Russell, quite a handsome New Year's present in gold coin. The various tenants of the club are much pleased with the manner in which he performs his duties, and the Club seems to appreciate him.

Last Wednesday was the coldest day of the season. The thermometer did not rise above twelve degrees all day. During the night it moderated considerably, and Thursday morning found the ground covered with a fresh coating of snow.

Noticeable at the annual dinner of the Massachusetts Rifle-Association at Young's Hotel the other evening was the absence of wine, or spirituous liquors of any kind, from the table.

IN 1904

Twenty-five Years Ago This Week

Mr. Ivers Wetherbee is in New York attending the annual automobile show at Madison Square Garden.

Mr. H. M. Chase, proprietor of the Arlington livery stable, says this is the coldest weather he has ever experienced since his residence in Massachusetts, dating back some twenty-five years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Cobb have issued cards for an at home on February 2nd to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of their marriage. It takes place at their residence, 22 Avon place, Arlington.

The old willow trees in the upper part of mill pond have been cut off by the proprietors of Fowle's Wheat Mills. The trees are badly infested by gypsy moths.

The whistle on the ice house at Spy Pond blew loud and long about six o'clock last Sunday morning, calling the men to work on the pond to take advantage of the cold snap and harvest as much ice as possible.

Mrs. Frank Seymore, better known, perhaps, by her maiden as well as stage name, Maude Knowland, has been spending a few days with her parents on Claremont avenue during a brief vacation from her professional engagements in New York City.

Miss Amy Gorham gave a "pit party" to a company of friends on Wednesday evening, at the home of her parents on Ashland street.

ARLINGTON AERO CLUB HAS MONTHLY MEETING

There was an exceptionally large gathering last Friday evening, Jan. 11, at Lexington Headquarters, of aviators of the present day and also of the World War and many more aviation enthusiasts, ages ranging from 16 to 45. It was announced in the papers as an open meeting and the younger enthusiasts have been wanting something of this kind in the town so they came right up and had their say as to what they wanted. They wanted to make models. Some had drawings of the ones they had made.

Some of the older men present who have done considerable flying, not only during the World War, but since, were somewhat surprised to hear with what ease and apparent knowledge of flying was evinced by the younger air-minded.

Mr. J. Dunn of the East Boston Airport acted as chairman and gave the names of other clubs and their activities, the latest in Woburn. He was detained by the members for an hour and a half, during which time he answered all kinds of questions and kept them so interested that it was eleven-thirty before it was realized.

A committee of five was appointed to draw up by-laws. There were visitors from several surrounding towns who were given a welcome. This club invites all young men over 18 to attend the next meeting, Jan. 25th at 8 p. m., at the Old Town Hall. It is the hope of the club to have a fine organization by late spring.

Social Alliance Hears Talk on Theodore Parker

The Social Alliance held its monthly literary meeting at the First Parish church Monday afternoon, presided over by the president, Mrs. Edward A. Bailey. The speaker was Rev. Edwin M. Slocombe of Lexington and his subject, "Theodore Parker". In a very interesting manner Mr. Slocombe spoke of the high lights in the life of this man who was such a vital force in the religious and political thought of his times.

Piano solos by Mrs. Elizabeth Marshall Porter and the reading of "Sandolphon" by Mrs. Edward Hooker, added to the enjoyment of the afternoon. At the close of the program tea, sandwiches and cake were served by Mrs. Wentworth Carr, Mrs. Alexander Rice, Mrs. Warren A. Peirce, Jr., and Mrs. Wise, assisted by Mrs. Herbert Buttrick and Mrs. Ralph Stevens. Mrs. George A. Russell and Mrs. Clarence H. Stevens presided at the tea table.

JOHN SCHAEFFER BADLY HURT WHILE CROSSING AVENUE

John Schaeffer, aged 52 years, of 159 Warren street, was badly hurt Tuesday afternoon, while crossing Mass. avenue, near Moulton road, when he was hit by an automobile operated by Norman B. Meyer of Chicago. It was stated after the accident that Mr. Schaeffer was hit as he came from behind an electric car, the handle of the left door striking the man and inflicting a deep gash over his left eye. It required four stitches to close the wound. In falling, the man landed on his right side, breaking his right arm and badly bruising his right leg. He is at the Symmes Arlington Hospital.

St. John's Church Holds Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of St. John's Church, Episcopal, was held last Monday evening, the 14th. Reports from the various parish organizations showed that all had had a successful year.

The officers were elected as follows: Senior Warden, James H. Kernan; Clerk, Ralph M. Simonds; Treasurer, Arthur O. Yeames; Vestrymen to serve for 3 years, Charles R. Beattie, George E. Wheatley, Arthur S. Barnes; Delegates to Diocesan Convention, Arthur O. Yeames, Frank A. Woodhead, Frederick A. Cheney; Delegates to Archdeaconry of Lowell, Charles R. Beattie, Sven A. Lawson, James H. Kernan.

THE REPERTORY THEATRE

Many years have passed since the first production of "The Octoroon", which is being revived at The Repertory Theatre of Boston on Monday evening, January 21st, and although it is now seen but infrequently on the stage, it still holds its place as a milestone on the road of dramatic progress. "The Octoroon" deals with the question that is as much of a problem today as when the play was written, the intermarriage of the black and white, a problem that has been brought much to the fore of late. Moreover the play gives a picture of a day now gone with all its picturesqueness, and will be welcomed not only for these reasons, but because it is a great play. At The Repertory the cast will include Edith Barrett as Zoe, Katharine Warren as Dora, Olga Birkbeck as Mrs. Peyton, Thayer Roberts as Wah-no-tee, Milton Owen as Salem Scudder, Robert Noble as M'Closky, Arthur Sireom as George Peyton, Thomas Sheare as Pete, William Mason as Sunny-side, J. Augustus Keogh as Pointdexter, and the many other parts cast to the full strength of the company.

Deaths

MRS. MARY A. SEFTON

Mrs. Mary A. Sefton, widow of Richard J. Sefton, died at her home, 995 Mass. avenue, on Wednesday, January 9th, in her 84th year. Mrs. Sefton had been a resident of this town many years and in the section where she made her home had many close friends. The funeral took place on Saturday morning, a high mass of requiem being celebrated in St. James' church by the pastor, Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor, D. D. Owing to illness of a daughter, Mrs. Alice M. Kyne, who is at Symmes Arlington Hospital, recovering from an operation, the funeral was private. The bearers were John J. Walsh, John Sefton, Vincent Gillespie, James Doherty, Andrew Dwyer and George Laffey. Burial was in St. Paul Cemetery. Besides Mrs. Kyne, Mrs. Sefton is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Daniel (Mary) Hourty, and one son, John Sefton, who is a sergeant of the Metropolitan Police Department.

WILLIAM D. KELLOGG

William Dale Kellogg, who has been a resident of Arlington since 1897, died in the early morning of January 13th, at 135 Pleasant street. He was only taken ill Tuesday previous to his death, with influenza, but it developed into pneumonia on Friday, and while his illness caused apprehension, his death was unexpected. He was born in Bangor, Me., on September 8, 1874, the son of Nathan Putnam and Ellen R. (Doe) Kellogg, and came to Boston when eighteen years old and for a time was employed in a broker's office. At the time of his death Mr. Kellogg was associated with the law firm of Peabody, Brown, Rowley & Storey, in Boston, in addition to his other duties. His office was at 70 State street, Boston.

The funeral was held Tuesday, at 1:30 p. m., from the Hartwell Chapel, 792 Massachusetts avenue. The devotional services were conducted by Rev. John Nicol Mark, minister of the First Parish Unitarian church. There was no music and no bearers. The body was taken to Bangor, Me., for burial in the family lot on Wednesday.

The deceased is survived by his wife, born Florence Low; a son, Stanley Nathan Kellogg, of New York City, who is associated with the New York Central Lines, and who arrived at his father's bedside the Friday previous to his death; also a daughter, Lucretia Kellogg, who makes her home with her parents.

Shows "The Ruling Passion" at First Parish Church

"The Ruling Passion", a play in which George Arliss starred, was the subject of the book talk which the Rev. John Nicol Mark gave at the First Parish church Sunday evening. The play, which portrays a clean battle for the prizes of success, was illustrated by seventy slides. Miss Ruth Spaulding of Beverly sang "Consider and Hear Me", "Evening and Morning" and "Father in Heaven".

Dad Was a Good Adviser

By JOAN LATIMER

OF ALL the sweet and pretty girls in the little town of Brampton, Madge Hoffman was the sweetest and prettiest. And because she was all this and also had been to college and was the only child of a rich, retired farmer, she had more beaux than all the other girls in the entire city put together.

But in spite of the way that life seemed to smile at her, Madge wasn't happy. The trouble was this: The one man Madge wanted to see among her beaux wasn't there. That man was Harry Jennings. They had met and fallen in love while attending the same coeducational college. During their last year together they had made wonderful plans for their future. Then, quite suddenly, their dream had gone to smash.

One day Harry had come to Madge with an unusual and despairing look on his face.

"Madge," he said, "they tell me your father is wealthy and you're an only child and—and—"

The look of despair on Harry's face had deepened greatly.

"Don't you see what this means?" Harry had asked. "I'm working my way through college. I simply won't marry a girl for her money. And you can see what that means. It means I'll have to work awfully hard to get as much money as you've got. But I—I'll come to you just as soon as I've made enough!"

Of course there had been tears and pleading on Madge's part, but Harry had been obstinate. He had left college at once. Since that time, Madge hadn't seen him and his letters had been infrequent.

This was the situation last a year after Harry's departure. And it was when Madge was feeling particularly blue about the matter that the following letter had been received from Harry:

"Dear Madge: It is evidently going to be a long and hard struggle for me to get together as much money as I should have. So I am going to pass out of your life. You shouldn't be asked to wait for me, and, of course, I couldn't stand it to have you support me. I've got a job in South America. I'm going down there. I'll be gone a long time. While I'm gone I hope for your own sake that you will be happily married. But before going I simply must see you again."

After the first ecstasy of their greeting some days later at Madge's home during the afternoon when her family were all away Madge began pleading with Harry to make a change in his plans.

"Harry, you've got the wrong slant on all this," declared Madge, with determination. "Since getting your letter I've thought it all over and talked it over with an old relative of mine who is pretty wise. And he says that the thing you should do would be to come here and go to work for my father."

"No! No!" cried Harry. "Oh," cried Madge, despairingly. "I can't explain it to you as this relative of mine can. You come with me and talk to him. Please."

For a moment Harry hesitated. "All right," he said sulkily at last, "but don't let your father know anything about me. I've never seen your dad, but I know just how he'd act and I couldn't blame him."

The office to which Madge directed Harry was old, but clean. It was comfortably filled with bookcases and filing cases and chairs and a rolltop desk. At the latter sat a stalwart, keen-looking, pleasant-faced old man with snow-white hair, but sharp gray eyes.

"Madge has told me all about you," said the old man. "I know just how you feel. I felt much the same way years ago when I married my wife. I didn't have much of a start in those days, and her folks were wealthy. When I married her I went to work for her dad, and believe me, I worked I probably worked a lot harder because I had married a rich man's daughter than I would have worked otherwise. And I made good a lot sooner on that account than I would have done otherwise. Have you thought about the pain and sorrow you'd cause Madge by going away by letting your pride get the better of you?"

A look of surprise and anxiety came into Harry's face.

"Would it really hurt you more to have me go away than to stay and seem to marry you for your money?" demanded Harry, gazing at Madge.

"Yes," said Madge softly.

"Then if you're the sort of man you look to be," said the old man, "you'll stuff your false pride in your pocket, marry Madge, go to work for her dad and prove that you are of the right stuff."

Madge, with her heart in her eyes, gazed at Harry.

"This—this relative of mine is so—and wise, Harry," she pleaded. "Don't—don't spoil both our lives!"

For an instant Harry returned her gaze, a great light in his eyes. Then he folded her in his arms.

"This is all very fine," said Harry suddenly, "but what will Madge's father say? I wouldn't blame him for throwing me out."

At this the old man rose and patted Harry on the shoulder.

"That's all right, son," said the old man with real affection in his voice. "I'm Madge's dad!"

Headed Right

It is gratifying to know that both the Board of Selectmen and the Arlington Chamber of Commerce, through its executive board, are bending every effort to bring to the attention of the Boston Elevated officials the inadequate service the corporation is giving the riding public of Arlington.

It is only by persistency that anything worth while is accomplished. There has been in the past much agitation of this mooted subject, but somehow that is all it has amounted to.

Arlington is entitled to better service. The Boston Elevated Railway officials will give that to Arlington just as soon as it realizes that its governing board is voicing the sentiment of the citizens of the town, and that of its business men.

The Selectmen and the Chamber of Commerce have started the ball rolling once again. May they keep it going until the object for which each has written letters to Mr. Dana, General Manager of the Boston Elevated, has been adjusted to the satisfaction of the Arlington users of the Boston Elevated cars.

transportation over their tracks through Arlington. The following is a copy of the letter:

January 16, 1929.

Mr. Edward Dana,
General Manager,
Boston Elevated Railway,
31 St. James Ave.,
Boston, Mass.

My dear Mr. Dana:

At the last regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce held Friday, January 11, 1929, the Board voted unanimously the following:

VOTED: "That the Secretary be authorized to send a letter to Mr. Edw. Dana of the Boston Elevated, complaining of the inadequate service given to the citizens of Arlington."

In the discussion of the motion, the following points were brought forward:

1. That the service given to Arlington is inadequate to the needs as increased by the recent growth of the community. Population increase in Arlington from 1910-1925 was 122.9% compared with Cambridge 14.1% and Somerville 28.2%.

2. The Board of Selectmen and the Chamber of Commerce are overwhelmed with complaints about lack of respectable service.

3. Better accommodations are needed in the line of heated cars, three men on a car with a trailer, more regular routing of cars during rush hours.

4. Arlington furnishes 45% of traffic over the rails, while Cambridge furnishes 55% traffic.

5. Satisfactory service is demanded to meet the conditions of a rapidly growing community. It is our request that you give us a definite reply on this vote, as we are required to report to our next general meeting what action has been taken by the Boston Elevated Railway.

The Chamber of Commerce represents 400 families and over 100 firms doing business in Arlington. We are solidly behind the Selectmen in their endeavors to obtain better service for our community. May we be favored with an early reply?

Sincerely yours,
F. P. HAWKES,
Secretary.

Mr. John Quigley has been confined to his home on Newport street with sinusitis for the past three weeks.

SELECTMEN SEND LETTER TO GAS LIGHT COMPANY

The Board of Selectmen this week sent the following letter to the Arlington Gas Light Company with reference to the new schedule of rates:

Gentlemen:

Early in the Summer of 1928 the Board of Selectmen requested that you submit to us a new schedule of gas rates calling for a reduction in the price of gas to the gas users in Arlington. After about six months delay the schedule was submitted to us for immediate approval so that you might make an announcement of your new rates by January 1st, 1929. This rate, which is now in effect, has never been approved by this Board and we take this opportunity of informing you that in our opinion the rate is unsatisfactory and does not give the small consumer sufficient reduction in his gas bill.

We feel that the new rate is not satisfactory and therefore is not acceptable. This Board, therefore, will consider what steps it may take in the near future in making a formal request that the Arlington Gas Light Company voluntarily offer a new rate which, in our opinion will be equitable and beneficial to small families.

Very truly yours,

HOLLIS M. GOTT,
LUKE A. MANNING,
ARTHUR P. WYMAN,
Board of Selectmen,
Arlington, Mass.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE IN ENGLAND DESCRIBED BY MRS. MAY HOBBS

Mrs. James A. Bailey opened her home on Wellington street, Wednesday afternoon, January 16th, to friends of the Arlington Girl Scout Council to hear a talk by Mrs. May Hobbs of England.

The large reception room in the Bailey home was filled with guests of the Council, who showed intense interest in the subject chosen by Mrs. Hobbs for her talk. She was introduced by Mrs. Bailey, whose acquaintance she made during Mrs. Bailey's summer tour in England.

Mrs. Hobbs is vitally interested in the Women's Institute that has accomplished so much for the women in the rural districts of England, and some things that have been done by the Institute formed the topic of her talk. She gave it the title of "England's Green and Pleasant Land", taken from a book of that name. Mrs. Hobbs, whose home is in the south of England, was born in Scotland, and no doubt this accounts for a good deal of her interest, although before the end of her talk she made her audience realize that the women in the rural districts of England, at least, are fully alive to their obligations as citizens, and are assuming them with efficiency.

The speaker said that the late war gave the women an opportunity to show the men of the country what they could do in the way of carrying on the work of the farms and since then they had gone on showing them with the result that the Women's Institute is the largest organized body in England. Its accomplishments have had a wonderful reaction on the men and it has given hundreds of women an opportunity to express themselves in the various activities of the Institute as never before. It has also made the rural districts more interesting places in which to dwell. Libraries have been established, the rural schools have been improved and the health of the dwellers in these sections made of vital importance. She told how the Institute cooperates with the national government and spoke of a new school that has been organized for the benefit of women voters and how a similar school had been requested by men. How the Institute had helped in a national crisis was touched, giving as an illustration, that which has arisen in the mining districts.

The Institute has raised the standard in industry as well as developed many crafts pursued by the women. Mrs. Hobbs also spoke of the war on against posters and predicted if you come to England in 1931 you will not find them, as a bill to abolish this means of advertising has been passed. The folk dances were also referred to by Mrs. Hobbs, also the interest that has been aroused in the drama and the study of it, especially so the plays of Shakespeare.

At the close of the talk Mrs. Harold Yeames, the Scout Commissioner, invited the guests to remain for a cup of tea, which was served in the dining room, from a prettily appointed table, presided over by Mrs. Yeames.

Deaths

ALEXANDER C. WESTHOFF

Alexander C. Westhoff, aged forty-seven, of 15 Daniels street, died at his home, Tuesday, of pneumonia. Mr. Westhoff was a former resident of Somerville, where he had conducted the barrel business for a number of years. A short time ago there was a serious fire in the storage yard of the company. Mr. Westhoff contracted a cold during the fire, from which pneumonia developed. He had been a resident of Arlington but a few years. At the time of his death he was contemplating moving back to Somerville. He was a man who enjoyed a very wide acquaintance, and his popularity was shown on Thursday at the funeral services, held in St. James' church, the church being well filled with relatives and friends. Mr. Westhoff was a member of Mount Benedict Council, K. of C., and Somerville Lodge of Elks, and both organizations were represented at the funeral by delegations who acted as honorary escort. There was a large number of floral tributes. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated, Thursday morning, with Miss Alice M. Mayo of Somerville, organist, and Miss Helen Daly of Somerville, soloist. At the time of the offertory of the mass, Miss Daly sang "Pie Jesu", and at the close of the mass she sang "O Jesu Deus Pacis".

Burial was in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Woman's Club

The Civics Education committee is offering a class in Current Events to club members. Mrs. A. H. Mason is to be the leader. The class will take place on Friday mornings at 10.30, beginning February 1st, for six successive weeks. Place to be announced. Tickets will be $1.50 for the course. At least 50 members will have to sign up in order to make the class a possibility. Will you be one of the fifty?

The Education Department of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs will hold a conference at Hotel Bellevue on Wednesday, January 23rd, at 10.15 a.m. Dr. Marianna Taylor will speak on "The Child in the Home".

Mr. John French, head master at Derby Academy, will interpret "Progressive Education". Mr. Frederick Smith, instructor at Harvard College, will lecture on "Vocational Guidance", and Miss Mary Sawyer, dean at Brookline High School, will tell of her experience as Dean. Mothers of young children will find this conference of great value. These phases of modern education should interest all. A large attendance from our club is urged.

The Executive Board is sponsoring a theatre party to be held at the Repertory Theatre in Boston, on January 31st. Tickets at $1.00 each for the matinee and luncheon tickets, if desired, for 75c, may be obtained from Mrs. John O. Matthews before January 29th. The play will be "The Octoroon", a revival of an old southern play.

Any one interested in Americanization is cordially invited to attend a meeting on January 19th, at 10.30 a.m. in Room 127, State House, Boston, at which some of the most important books of this year on Americanization will be reviewed.

Miss Ruth Cowdell, custodian of the Foreign Department, Public Library, Providence, will speak on Immigration and Allied Topics.

Miss Anna L. Kelly, supervisor of Americanization in the Public Schools of Peabody, will review "Easy English" for adult beginners.

Mr. Lewis T. Denzert, superintendent of schools in Manchester, N. H., will share his opinion on outstanding titles of Racial Backgrounds.

There will be time for discussion following each speaker.

The Choral Class will continue its meetings at the Congregational Vestry on Wednesdays at 10 a.m. This class is open to the public and the fee will be $3.00.

EAST ARLINGTON

Mr. C. H. Howard, of Augusta, Me., has been the guest of his sister, Mrs. I. Theo. Marple, 89 Mass. avenue, for the past week.

Mrs. Martha Stagner of Providence, R. I., spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. J. A. Varnum, 11 Magnolia street.

The executive committee of Trinity Baptist church will meet at the home of Mrs. W. I. Marsters on Marion road next Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Hill and their children, who have been ill at their home on Oxford street, are now recovering.

There will be a Service of Lights at the Church of Our Saviour next Sunday evening. A similar service, which was very impressive, was held last year during Epiphany, which is the missionary season of the church.

Mrs. Joseph W. Swain, who has been spending some time with her sister in Providence, R. I., has returned to her home on Marathon street. Mrs. Swain's friends will be glad to hear that her health is better.

The Girls' Friendly has changed the day of its meeting from Monday to Friday. Now the meetings come immediately after choir rehearsal. This is especially convenient, as many of the members also belong to the choir.

The Men's Club of the Church of Our Saviour are making plans for a big supper, followed by an entertainment, next Friday evening. This is part of a drive for membership. Any boy or man over sixteen is eligible for membership.

The Non Sibs were the guests of Mrs. Viola Nichols at her home, 32 Newport street, Monday evening. On account of sickness among the members, there was a small attendance and no special business was transacted. The next meeting will be held on the evening of the 28th of January at the Teel street home of Miss Ina Dunlop.

This is "Friendly Visitation" week at Trinity Baptist church. On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, supper was served at the church to the members of the committee who made calls in the neighborhood during the afternoon. Mrs. Warren Foss, Mrs. W. I. Marsters and Mrs. Campbell were the supper committee for the first two evenings. This evening also there will be a supper for the workers. Rev. James E. Norcross, pastor of the church, is directing the work.

Arthur Lane, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lane of Winter street, returned to Exeter on Saturday. A case of "flu" forced him to prolong his Christmas holidays, much against his will, as he wished to get back for hockey practice. Other members of the Lane family have been suffering with severe colds.

ARLINGTON LOCALS

Mrs. Maurice J. Bartholomew is confined to her home on Newport street with an attack of the grip. Her three sons are also ill. As Mrs. Bartholomew was to have entertained the "Octoroon" Wednesday evening, the meeting has been postponed.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McMordie of Lombard terrace will be pleased to know of the arrival of a daughter in their home. Mrs. McMordie is a patient at the Riverbank Hospital on Bay State road, Boston.

The many friends of Mrs. William A. Cann sympathize with her in the death of her mother, Mrs. Eugene J. Hardy, who lived on Walnut street, Foxboro. Mrs. Hardy died suddenly on Tuesday. She was born 70 years ago, in Dedham. Mr. and Mrs. Hardy had been married fifty years.

CONTEMPLATED WORK BY
SELECTMEN AND JOINT BOARD

The Board of Selectmen and Joint Board are hoping to put through many important projects that will be for the benefit of the town, during 1929. Among these is the car situation, in which every member of the Board of Selectmen is vitally interested. The public, however, must cooperate with them if anything is to be accomplished.

An appropriation will be requested for the widening and reconstruction of Massachusetts avenue from Central and Academy streets to Schouler court and Highland avenue. The continued delay in starting this important, although expensive work, will mean increasing costs, due to the increase in the value of abutting property which must be taken by the town when the actual widening of the avenue takes place. The need of this widening has long been apparent, and delay simply means added costs.

New street lights on Massachusetts avenue from a position near the Town Hall to Arlington Heights will be provided. These lights will be placed on either side of the avenue at regular intervals, following a plan similar to the system installed on Massachusetts avenue from Franklin street to the Cambridge line.

During the past year nearly $35,000 was spent by the town under the jurisdiction of the Board of Public Welfare, for relief work. For many years the Clerk of the Board of Selectmen has been Agent for the Welfare Board, or as it was known for many years Overseers of the Poor. The Board of Selectmen is of the opinion that because of the large and ever increasing amount necessary to properly perform this work, the Town should have an Agent, qualified by experience, to devote his entire time to this work. This constant and intelligent supervision will assume adequate relief, when needed and will also be an assurance that the Town is spending no money unless the recipients are entirely worthy of aid.

The installation of traffic signals at various intersections during 1928 have worked out so advantageously that an additional appropriation will be requested to carry on the work during 1929. Automatic traffic signals are both effective and economical.

Within a few days Broadway, Massachusetts avenue, Mystic street and Pleasant street will be declared "Through Ways" and all entering streets will have Boulevard Stop Signs erected at the corners. These stop signs will command all traffic to stop before entering these Through Ways. By statute, Boulevard Stop Signs will carry the same authority as that delegated to a police officer and for traffic to merely slow up at the corner will, without question, cause many of our citizens embarrassment and possibly a trip to the Cambridge Court. If people will only cooperate in these regulations instituted so that the highways may become safer, and to reduce the number of accidents on our highways, everyone will be in a happier state of mind and there will be no inconvenience to the automobile driver.

The new Highland Fire Station is nearly completed. This Station is entirely fire-proof and is one of the best constructed public buildings in the State. Without question it is one of the best designed fire stations that experts, familiar with this particular type of design and construction, have ever seen. The building is designed for utility check, but its architecture and finish and the apparent thought and good taste shown in the interior and exterior details are most pleasing. It is hoped that a public opening may be had on February 22nd. The pumps available for service in the new station are antiquated and there is grave question as to the reliability of these pieces due to their age, as one was purchased in 1911 and one in 1915. An appropriation is requested for a new pump, duplicate of one purchased two years ago for the Central Station.

Construction of new streets during the coming year, in practically all cases, concrete edge-stones instead of the usual type of construction, calling for loam strips and paved gutters. Loam strips, when not protected by curb stones, are usually unsatisfactory and do not protect the sidewalks against automobiles backing onto them, or driving over them in turning around in the street. Concrete edge stones will cost little, if any more, than paved gutters and very much less than granite edge-stones. A substantial appropriation will be asked to construct new streets, continuing the program of an increased appropriation for this work, which for many years was retarded by insufficient funds. Properly constructed streets mean a greater satisfaction and pride in our citizens and materially increase the value of property on such streets. The Board is of the unanimous opinion that no material reduction should be made in the amount of money requested for this work.

The growth in the size of the offices in the Town Hall will probably necessitate a change in the present layout of the first floor in the west wing of the building. At the present time the Board of Health and Building Inspectors occupy this section of the building, but conditions are so crowded that an arrangement must be made. An appropriation will also be requested for material increase in the public toilet facilities of the building.

The Police Department is called upon for ever increasing service and in spite of a possible saving in traffic duty, by police officers through the installation of automatic traffic signals, it will be necessary to ask for our additional patrolmen for the coming year. All new streets accepted by the Town must be patrolled and the very large number of new houses constructed yearly means more houses to watch and more vigilant patrols. The protection afforded citizens of the town by the Police and Fire Departments amply justifies the costs.

Perhaps it will be remembered that the Advocate printed a story early in the summer of 1928 regarding the Board of Selectmen requesting the Arlington Gas Light Company to submit a new schedule of rates, calling for a reduction in the price of gas to the household consumer. After about six months delay a schedule was submitted to the Board for immediate approval, so that an announcement might be made by January 1, 1929. It was impossible for the Board to express an intelligent opinion of the new rates in the short time allowed, and the rate did not receive the approval of the Board. Since that time it appears to be plain that the small consumer is not at all benefited, or at least the benefit is so small as to be negligible, by the new rate. After arriving at a comprehensive and intelligent criticism of the rate and a request, which they believe will be just and equitable to the Company, as well as to the consumer, the Board has again conferred with officials of the Gas Light Company, in the hope that a voluntary reduction would be made by the Company. A communication, received from the Gas Light Company by the Board regarding this matter, will be found in another column.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

—Miss Ruth Call has been ill this week at the Westminster avenue home of her parents.

—Mr. George L. Vianello of Westminster avenue has returned from a business trip to New York.

—Rev. John Blair and Hazel Hovey Blair of Philadelphia, welcome a baby daughter into their household, who has been named Priscilla.

—The Dorcas Club of the First M. E. church were entertained at the home of Mrs. Spiller, 66 Alpine street, on Tuesday evening.

The alarm from box 64 on Monday morning was for a slight fire in the home of F. W. Vaughn, 164 Paul Revere road. A fire had been started in the fireplace.

—The J. A. O. Club will hold the meeting postponed from last Tuesday evening, next Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Chester Eaton, 97 Paul Revere road.

—Miss Thelma Soderquist, who has been confined to her home on Crescent Hill avenue with a severe cold, has returned to the High School, where she is a student.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Harvey of Richardson avenue are leaving tomorrow for a ten-day trip to Chicago, where Mr. Harvey will attend the Canner's Convention.

The Christian Endeavor of Park Avenue Congregational church will hold a social in the Parish House tonight. A program of stunts will be followed by dancing.

—Miss Martha Pihl of Westminster avenue, who graduated from Arlington High School last June, has gone to Washington, D. C., for an extended stay with her sister.

—Mrs. J. W. Hovey is still confined to her bed at 115 Ronald road. She fell in her home a month ago, causing an injury to her spine, which necessitated a plaster cast.

—Mr. C. Frederick Evans is at Martha's Vineyard for two weeks, after a fortnight in Massachusetts General. It is hoped that February first will see him very much himself again.

—On Saturday, January 19th, about noon, Bernard Donahue, of 108 Sylvia street, was struck by an automobile operated by Albert P. Peterson, of 64 Cliff road, Milton, while about opposite number 201 Pleasant street.

—It is expected that the Park Avenue Congregational Church School Orchestra will resume rehearsals within a month's time and be ready to play by Easter time. All competent young players welcome. Mr. Harry L. Tinkham is the instructor.

—Miss Ann Patterson of Mousie Mouth, Scotland, has made her return booking for February 24th. She has been making a three months' visit with her sister, Mrs. George Crockett, of 70 Dow avenue.

—Robert Sproul's many friends will be glad to learn that he is gaining slowly after an operation for appendicitis. It will probably be some time, however, before he will be able to leave Symmes Arlington Hospital. His case was complicated by a severe cold.

—The Sunshine Club held their social meeting on Wednesday afternoon, January 16, at the home of Mrs. J. J. Rowlands, 108 Oakland avenue. The assisting hostess was Mrs. J. F. Briggs. A delightful afternoon was enjoyed by all, there being seven tables of bridge. Delicious refreshments were served in the dining room. The next business meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George H. Lloyd, 71 Hillside avenue, on Wednesday, February 6.

An unusually fine meeting of the Religious Education Committee of Park Avenue Congregational Church was held Friday night at the home of the chairman, Mrs. G. Franklin Gruber, on Wachusett avenue. Those present in addition to the chairman were Miss Marion Farrington, the treasurer; Mrs. George Otley, in charge of the Lyon's Cubs; Mrs. Norman Parsons, Superintendent of the Junior Department of the Church School; Mrs. Horace Lester, Superintendent of the Primary department; Miss Louise Cooper and Mrs. Herbert Peirce.

—On Tuesday, January 8th, the Arlington Heights Study Club met at Hambury Hall. Mrs. Charles H. Hardy, the president, presided. This was the Civics meeting. Mrs. F. Alfred Patterson gave a talk on the Junior High School system. Mrs. Peterson was fully qualified and spoke most intelligently on the advantages of this system. Questions followed, but for the most part members were in favor of this system. Mrs. Frank A. Hewitt gave a paper on "Modern Playground in Town and City", showing ing she had given much thought, and study to this problem. A social hour followed. Mrs. Frederick Parker and Mrs. Frank W. Garrett were in charge of refreshments. The hostesses were Mrs. Charles M. Evans and Mrs. Foster T. Doane. The next meeting will be held the twenty-second of January.

—Mrs. Margaret M. (Corbett) Wilson, wife of Walter E. Wilson, died at her home, 1275 Mass. avenue, Friday, January 11, following a short illness. The funeral was held Monday morning, a high mass of requiem being celebrated in St. James church by the pastor, Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor, D. D. The bearers were Elliott Rowe, Charles Corbett, Fred Zenone and Fred Wilson. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, East Woburn. Mrs. Wilson is survived by her husband, a son and a daughter.

—The Women's Guild of the Park Avenue Congregational Church were disappointed in not having Dr. and Mrs. Hume at their meeting on Tuesday, January 15, as was planned, but on account of Dr. Hume's illness, he was unable to be present. In their stead, Mrs. C. Evans of Appleton street read a paper on "England", which not only proved interesting, but instructive as well, and an acceptable substitute. Dr. and Mrs. Hume will be with the group at a later date. The next item on the Guild's program is to be an entertainment and pie social to be held January 25 (Friday) at 8 o'clock.

A very charming party was held in the new Parish House of Park Avenue Congregational church on December twenty-eighth, when under Mrs. H. H. Lester, Miss Dorothy Doane and Mrs. P. K. Griffin, the third year primary children of the church school had their Christmas tree and a special program. There were piano solos by Hope Parkhurst, Grace Brooks, Ann Crockett, with piano duets by Robert Evans and Grace Brooks. There were recitations by Grace Irwin, Marjorie Thornrose and Doris Johnson, and a song by Norman Smith. There were Christmas riddles by Robert Evans, Robert Marshall, and William Bent, and a dramatization of Good King Wenceslas by Mary Baird, Ann Crockett, Clifford Boyd, Clark McPherson and William Henderson. Graduates of the last four years who assisted were Dorothea Evans and Louise Lester, with flute solos. Sarah Frances Patterson and Frances Griffin with piano solos. Elaine Down with costume dances. Francis Smith, with singing and Purcell Lester with a violin solo. A candle-lit carol singing followed refreshments. Last of all came the gifts. Altogether it was a memorable occasion.

—There were many Arlington women among those who attended the luncheon and bridge of the Cambridge Social Union's Woman's Club, which was held in the Spanish room of Hotel Buckminster, last week Wednesday. The speaker, who proved most interesting, was the Chinese diplomat, Dr. Tsieh Hsieh. The president of the club is Mrs. Martin Kenney of Belmont, who formerly lived in Arlington, and a large proportion of the members are Arlington women. On the committee of which Mrs. Kenney acted as chairman, was Mrs. J. H. Delay of Mystic Lake drive. Mrs. Delay is a past president of the organization. The club is planning a luncheon bridge to be held at the Foodcraft Shop, 234 Boylston street.

Cleaning that tires you not at all...
POSITIVE AGITATION

Are you one of the many women who never dare accept an invitation for the afternoon of cleaning day—whose strength is just enough for cleaning tasks—and no more?

The difficulty is not with you. Lighten your cleaning and you will find yourself with rest enough for outings every cleaning day.

The Hoover will give you this effortless cleaning. It removes more dirt per minute than any other cleaner. That means faster cleaning, easier cleaning, more thorough cleaning.

The Hoover is able to give you this faster, easier, deeper cleaning because of "Positive Agitation," which vibrates all the deep-buried, destructive grit to the surface. With this unmatched deep-beating are combined sweeping and suction, giving The Hoover an efficiency that begins where the ordinary vacuum cleaner leaves off.

The ability of The Hoover to remove more dirt per minute has been shown by repeated tests made under actual home conditions. We shall be glad to prove it to you on your own rugs. Because of The Hoover's outstanding superiority, you should be sure to see this test, before purchasing any cleaner. Telephone us today.

Cash prices: Model 700, $75. Model 543, $59.50. Dusting tool, $12.50. New... motor-driven floor polishing attachment, $7.50. Easy payments if desired. Only $6.25 down. Liberal allowance for your old cleaner.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Reports from Tech tell us that Homer Davis, '27, has been made treasurer of the Voo Doo, their humorous monthly publication.

Joseph McPhee, who was at Hebron Academy, N. H., was homesick for Arlington, and has come back to the High School for a P. G. course. We're glad to see him.

The Arlington Teachers' Reading Club met last Tuesday afternoon at the Colonial on Mass. avenue as guests of Miss Wakefield. Next Wednesday the Club will meet at Miss Harlow's rooms on Broadway.

Miss Taber was ill with influenza the first part of the week. Miss Tewksbury substituted for her. Mrs. Matthews, the head of the Dramatic Club, who was absent before vacation with tonsillitis, has had them removed and is now recuperating. We hope to see her back at school soon.

Seniors are deep in College Board preliminary exams. Sophomores are debating the question of an open library in Arlington on Sundays. They are consulting librarians and collecting information generally.

The Debating Club is in the process of organization. Miss Lawton, who was a member of Bates College debating team, is in charge of the Club this year. A debate is planned for January 25th, on the question: Should Capital Punishment be Abolished? The affirmative stand will be defended by Warren Bean, Joseph Grinnan and Francis Anderson. The members of the negative side are Edmund Chandler, Robert Bradford and Amedee Boudreau.

On March 8 and 9 the Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Pierce, will present "Lotus Blossom", an opera written by two of the High School boys. The composer of the music is Alan Vaness Chakmakjian, and the author of the libretto is Edgar Hegh. This will be given in the Junior High East auditorium.

SPORT TIPS

The High School basketball team has another hard game scheduled for this evening with the Belmont High team. Belmont, like Arlington, has a fine record thus far this season, and they are sure to give the Arlington boys a stiff battle. There will also be a game between the second teams of the two schools. The game will start at 8.00 o'clock, and will be played in the High School gymnasium.

Next Wednesday afternoon the basketball team goes to Framingham to take on Framingham High, for a return game. Arlington won the first match, 47 to 9, in the game played in Arlington. Framingham feels that they can take Arlington on the Framingham floor. Wednesday will tell the tale.

Probably the hardest games of the season for the Arlington High hoopers comes when they meet Brockton High. They are booked to play two games, the first at Brockton on Friday evening, Feb. 1, and the second at Arlington on Friday evening, Feb. 15.

The members of the Girls' Field Hockey team had their pictures taken last week. They are surely a fine looking set of girls.

One day last week the Advocate reporter, while coming out from Boston, saw two groups of boys playing marbles and a large group kicking a football. In years gone by we could be sure on at least a foot or two of snow by this time in January. Our first real storm came Monday night of this week.

Many young folks, and a few older ones, were seen skating Sunday on a section of Spy Pond, lower Mystic Lake and Hill's Pond. At the latter place, George D. Higgins, the man in charge of the pond, had the snow shoveled off for the skaters. They evidently appreciated this, because such remarks as "He's a good scout", "He's a fine man" and the like were overheard when the youngsters learned who had cleaned the ice surface for them.

SPORTS

MEDFORD BASKETBALL TEAM
LOSES TO ARLINGTON

The Arlington High School basketball team walked away with the Medford High basketball team on Friday night of last week at Medford. The Medford team had expected to be a hard nut for the home team to crack, but they fairly played their opponents off their feet in the last half, when they held Medford to three points, while Arlington rolled up nineteen in this period.

The game, which was played in the school gymnasium, was about even in the first half, which ended thirteen to eleven in favor of Arlington. Twelve of these points were made by clean basket shooting, Lefty Lowder getting two, Beasley, two; Ross, one, and Driscoll, one. Lefty Lowder scored one point after a foul. The first period saw the teams tied with seven points each.

In the third period, the Arlington boys' attack certainly puzzled the Medford boys, with the result that Arlington kept adding points. Lefty Lowder caged a basket and got two points after fouls; George Lowder got one after a foul. Driscoll was the big man, with two baskets and three points after fouls; Beasley got a basket and two points after fouls; Friery tallied on a foul, and Blackman got a point after a foul. It was the fastest game the Arlington boys have played thus far this season. The team is going strong. They have not lost a regular school boy game as yet.

There was a live game also between the second teams, Arlington again coming out ahead, 13 to 11, in the final score, an extra period having to be played to decide it.

The summary of the first string game:

ARLINGTON H. S.	Gls	Fts	Pts
W. Lowder, rf	3	2	9
Ross, lf	1	0	2
G. Lowder, lf	0	1	1

ON THE ALLEYS

The first half of the Arlington Council, Knights of Columbus Bowling League comes to a close with the matches this week. In the matches rolled Thursday evening of last week on the Arlington and Regent Alleys, some of the teams got a set back in their fillers. The Associates and the Fillers divided the points, two and two, and St. Pats did the same with the Post Office team; Fusiliers won three points from the Auctioneers; Elcos won all four from the Bruins; Old Timers won three from the Lakeviews, and the Zevis won three from the Pals. Francis Donnelly of the St. Pats rolled the high three string total of the evening, with 325, and William Gearin, Jr., was the high single string man, with 133.

Union Church League

Unless some of the other teams get in more practice, the A. F. G. team of the Heights Baptist church will carry off the silver cup. This A. F. G. team has been going strong ever since the league opened, with Calvary Methodist and First Universalist trailing in second and third place respectively, but not making any impression on the leaders.

THE LEXINGTON WANDERERS
WIN OVER SOMERVILLE

On Sunday afternoon, the Lexington Wanderers, a hockey team made up of Arlington Heights young men, played a double header. The Wanderers defeated the Somerville City Club, four to one in the opening game, and defeated the Somerville Bruins four to nothing in the second game. The two games gave the fans a great exhibition of ice hockey playing, although the game was played on the open ice instead of in a rink. The summary:

First Game
LEXINGTON WANDERERS—Harvey, Zerk, rf; A. Leveroni, Hurd, c; Edgar, Foslack, lf; Potter, rd; Leary, ld; Leveroni, g.
SOMERVILLE CITY CLUB—Perry, lf; Elizahead, c; McKeown, rf; Boyce, ld; Blair, rd; Moran, g.

Score, Lexington Wanderers 4, Somerville City Club 1. Goals made by A. Leveroni 2, Hurd, Edgar, McKeown, Referee, Cosgrove. Time, three 20m periods.

Arlington A. A. Loses to St. John's Club 29-28

The Arlington A. A. was defeated by the strong St. John's Club of Cambridge at Cambridge, 29-28. It was a close, hard fought game, with Arlington leading until the last few minutes of play. Goodwin and Lane for Arlington were outstanding. Poor officiating was the main fault of this game. The Arlington players and their positions were: Goodwin, lf; Lane, rf; Bailey, c; Crocco, rg; O'Keefe, lg.

CHAMPIONS OF ICE HOCKEY WORLD

Anyone who follows the sports closely, and especially our local Dartmouthites, will recognize the tall figure in the center as that of Myles Lane, famous Dartmouth halfback and hockey player of two years ago.

While not quite as noted as Oberlander, Lane was one of the reasons why "Swede" was an All-American. It takes two to complete a forward pass, as everyone knows, and Lane received most of Oberlander's superb passes. Myles Lane was the perfect receiver, the perfect running mate for never-to-be-forgotten "Swede" Oberlander.

In as much as it takes two to completely complete a forward pass, most people forget that there must be a strong forward wall to protect the passer. A linesman is often forgotten while he plays as a backround to the spectacular backs, but experienced spectators will not soon forget the work "Sykes" Hardy did in the Dartmouth line. Defensively, he was as irreplaceable, and offensive, he and his six mates, made Lane, an Oberlander possible.

High School Hockey Team
Stages Another Victory

The High School hockey team played a wonderful game at Andover last Saturday afternoon, defeating the Phillips Andover Academy team, one to nothing. It was Arlington's game all the way through, although the score might indicate that there was not much action. The little goal tend of Academy team, Neill, had plenty to do, however, all through the game, and it was marvelous to see the way he stopped some of the shots. On the other hand, the goal tend of Arlington, Manning, did some clever work. Forbes and Clark of Arlington broke up play after play, but it was not until within the final three minutes of the game that the lone score was made. The Arlington boys forced the game from the start, putting the Academy boys to their utmost to keep them from scoring.

Open Evenings

In the last period Forbes got the loose puck about 15 feet in front of the Academy goal, after a hot combination play that had failed to tally. His quick dash for the goal took Neill off his guard, with the result that the puck went into the net for the only score of the game.

The summary:
ARLINGTON H. S.—Rice, rf; Duffy, Teevens, c; Abbott, Winn, lf; Forbes, rd; Clark, ld; Manning, g.
ANDOVER—Sherman, lf; Fawcett, Ruck, c; Bryant, Bachmann, rf; MacDougall, Gardner, ld; Jackson, Wing, rd; Neill, g.

Score, Arlington 1, Andover 0. Goal, Forbes. Referee, S. H. Paradise. Time, three 12m periods.

The members of the team were the guests of the Academy for the day. They report having had a wonderful time. "Art" Lane of Arlington played host to the party, seeing to it that the boys had a wonderful time.

ARLINGTON LOCALS

—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Minot Percy on Tuesday at the New England Baptist Hospital, in Roxbury.

—At the Sunday night service at Calvary M. E. church, Rev. Charles T. Allen chose as his sermon subject, "On to Victory", celebrating the ninth anniversary of the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment. Mr. T. H. Barrows was the baritone soloist. At the morning service a large congregation greeted Rev. Grady D. Feagan pastor of the First Baptist church, who was the exchange minister.

—The Win-One Class, of which Miss C. D. Higgins is teacher, will hold a joint January and February meeting next Thursday evening, at the First Baptist church, at which time a supper is planned in connection with the meeting. Rev. and Mrs. G. D. Feagan will be guests, and an exceptionally fine meeting is planned.

—Miss Isabelle Souster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Souster, of 87 Brantwood road, has recently been elected to the Honor Court of Oberlin College. The word Court means just what it says, apparently, for it is a body of five, elected for the purpose of trying all delinquents in the student body. Miss Souster should be congratulated, for by being elected to the Honor Court, she has received the highest honor that the students of Oberlin could give her.

PRINCIPAL HERMAN GAMMONS RETIRES FROM PRESIDENCY

In the Boston Sunday Globe of January 13th, there was a picture of the officers of High School Principals' Association. Among the group was Herman Gammons, Principal of Arlington Senior High School and the retiring president of the Association.

In what regard Mr. Gammons is held in the Association has been evinced by the important office he has held during the past year.

At the annual meeting of the Association, held Saturday of last week at Hotel Statler, when Forrest Brown of Amesbury was made president of the Association, Frank D. Boynton of Ithaca, N. Y., president of the Department of Superintendents, National Education Association, gave a fine talk on the youth of to-day. Mr. Gammons read a telegram from Commissioner Payson Smith regarding his inability to be present, and extending greetings.

In his address Supt. Boynton praised the youth of to-day as being clean and straighter thinking than ever before. He advanced the opinion if there is anything wrong with the rising generation, the parents, more than anybody else, are to blame. The home can't put religious and moral training into the hands of either the church or the school and so shirk their responsibility. The church and school are merely supplementary institutions. Supt. Boynton is of the opinion that it takes a better boy to be a good boy to-day than ever before. The automobile, whose speed is unlimited, is a greater menace to the average boy or girl than the horse and buggy of a quarter of a century ago. Yet most boys and girls are not using this to their detriment. Supt. Boynton also had a splendid word to say, especially regarding the girls, whom he thinks have never been so attractive or so well behaved as they are to-day.

Arlington Among Best In Removal Of Snow

Tuesday morning's snow storm brought many protests to the Board of Public Works concerning the condition of the streets. One criticism was that Massachusetts avenue in Lexington was scraped so much cleaner than was the same thoroughfare in Arlington. Mr. Benson, clerk of the Board of Public Works, explains this by saying that there are no trolley tracks in Lexington. The Elevated plows out its own track but the fact that the tracks are there makes it impossible for the scraper to work so close to the surface of the road except over near the gutter.

Mr. Benson added that the same condition prevails in Boston and in Cambridge. Indeed, he said, the department had received letters from motorists driving north, congratulating the town on the excellence of its snow removal. Arlington's roads, these letters said, were a great improvement over those of Cambridge. Lexington, Mr. Benson further pointed out, keeps its roads in A-1 condition—and spends a great deal more money than does Arlington. Last year the cost of snow removal in the town to the northwest was about double what it was here. Moreover, while Lexington has a larger area, Arlington has forty miles more of roads than has her neighbor. A glance at a map of the town will explain this, particularly if the large number of streets in the eastern part is noted.

Investigation at the State House which, Mr. Benson said, had been inspired by past criticism, showed that so far as snow removal was concerned Arlington was rated among the best in the state.

MORE ASPIRANTS FOR OFFICE OF SELECTMAN

It now looks as if there would be plenty of candidates for Selectman in March. Besides the names heretofore mentioned in these columns, there are three more mentioned this week. They are Angus P. Macdonald of 40 Pleasant street; Thomas S. Whiting, of 147 Mass. avenue, and Henry C. Rowland, of 13 Academy street.

LIEUT. F. E. COYNE JR. VISITS ARLINGTON

First Lieutenant Frederick E. Coyne, Jr., Field Artillery, United States Army, was in Arlington Thursday, January 17th, on official business in connection with recruiting for the Regular Army. Lieut. Coyne's voice is well known to owners of radio receiving sets in this locality, because of his weekly broadcasts from Station WNAC, Boston, on the subject of the Regular Army's history since the days of the Revolution. While in this town, Lieut. Coyne made several calls. Among them to Arlington Police Headquarters, when Chief Urquhart conducted him through the building. Lieut. Coyne expressed his deep interest, and pronounced it one of the finest buildings of its kind ever seen.

The officer stated that Lieutenant Colonel Harry L. King, Cavalry, United States Army, who heads Army Recruiting work in Eastern Massachusetts, is desirous of having local youths, who may be interested in army life, know that full information is obtainable at the Main Recruiting Station, Army Base, Boston, Mass., where one may call in person or write for prompt reply. A special effort is being made at this time to secure men for the 7 posts, which the Army maintains in New England. At these posts are garrisoned several

SUNDAY MUSICAL SERVICES IN FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

A most pleasing musical program was given last Sunday evening at the First Baptist Church by the First Quartette: Mrs. Elsie Greenwood, Mrs. Elizabeth Bishop, Mrs. Mabelle Street, and Mrs. Ida MacDonald. Two familiar hymns were sung by the quartet—"Now The Day Is Over", and "Lead Kindly Light", while Handel's "Holy Art Thou" gave opportunity for delicate blending of tones and harmonious effects. "Baby-lon" (Howell), sung by Mrs. Greenwood, was last heard in the church on the Sunday before the former edifice was burned in November, 1924.

Next Sunday evening the soloists are to be Mr. Harold H. Hovey of Wakefield, baritone, who has been assisting in the music through the winter, and Mr. Leonard Dudley Wood, violinist. Mr. Wood, now majoring in music at Harvard, class of '31, is a grandson of William E. Wood, for many years organist of the church. He made his solo numbers, Mr. Wood will play the obligato for Cesar Franck's "O Lord Most Holy", sung by Mr. Hovey. Mr. Mark S. Dickey will preside as usual at the organ. All music-lovers of Arlington are invited to participate in this service.

NEW PLAYERS ON JACK HUTCHINSON'S TEAM

or any cleverer. He has the knack of making every ounce of his weight count for two. After seeing him in action we feel quite safe in making the prediction that more than one giant will find himself sweeping the ice on his back this season if he tries to take advantage of Hilliard's avoidpouls, or lack of it.

"Hutch" has "Sykes" Hardy on his team too, who holds down a position on the defense. Off-hand, we can't think of anyone who can do it any better.

Jack himself does not plan to take an active part on the ice very much this season, but he will probably use himself when he feels that his team has need of his hard shot, his stick handling, and his hockey brain. None can beat him at these things.

Teamwork Honors to Harvard
The B. A. A. has played three games thus far, winning one, tying one, and losing to Harvard Wednesday night, five to one. Only one thing marred the game with Harvard, and that was the score. Five to one is a bad beating for a team like B. A. A. to take, but it was not really as bad as it sounds. While Harvard certainly had quite an edge on teamwork, the club team was a better group of individuals. With a little more coaching by Jack Hutchinson, their team play should surely improve, and it will have to. The team as a whole tried to play the passing game at times, but it was no match for Harvard along that line. The University deserved to win.

The most colorful player on the ice Wednesday night was Channing Hilliard. As usual "Chan" was everywhere, slashing, charging, we might almost say biting. He got a big hand from the crowd as he was relieved once in the last period, and deserved it, for he was a big factor in making the game interesting.

Arlington Boys Oppose Each Other
It will interest many Arlington readers to know that playing opposite Hilliard, and even wearing the same number, was his old team mate, "Del" Everett. And "Del" certainly was not playing for B. A. A. Perhaps because he knew the style of Hilliard's play so perfectly, he surely did make things tough for that lad all the time they were opponents.

Thinking back a bit we remember that "Chan" and "Del" got their hockey experience when they played with the Arlington Wanderers, perhaps one of the best junior teams in Greater Boston. The boys who played on that team are "Chambo" Chamberline, now on the University of Iowa team; "Tommy" Taylor, who is one of the best of the Princeton aggregation; "Bub" Lombard, one great guns now for B. U.; "Del" Everett, now of Harvard and formerly the high scorer on the Phillips Exeter Club two years ago, and Channing Hilliard, who was to have been captain of the Hebron Academy team this year, if he had returned, and now, as perhaps, our readers have gathered, one of the mainstays of the B. A. A. team. As far as we know, "Ben" Wood is the only Wanderer who has wandered from the fold and no longer plays any hockey. He has devoted his stick handling to the violin.

and fifty were registered in the Cutter School, where there are this year 750 pupils. The school is filled to capacity. There are three classes in the basement, one in the attic and one in the small room formerly used as a library. Moreover every class is at or near its limit of forty. The school committee is hoping for a new school on the other side of the avenue near Brattle street. However, the addition to the Peirce School and to the High School both take precedence of this.

The High School addition is set down on the program for 1930. Last year the use of the auditorium as a classroom and the division of two large rooms so as to make four classrooms made it possible to continue the High School as a unit instead of dividing it as was necessary at Junior High West. It is possible to create three more classrooms out of rooms at present put to other uses. This will mean the equivalent of a seven room addition, which would cost about one hundred thousand dollars.

REV. MR. HADLEY ENTERTAINS ROTARY MEMBERS

Cornell University Student Appreciative

Haskell "Hatch" Reed, the milk dealer, was welcomed as a new member on Wednesday. The secretary and treasurer, Mr. Charles H. Stevens, read a fine letter from John J. Walsh, Cornell University student, expressing sincere appreciation of the loan extended by the Arlington Club as an aid to finance him through college.

Rev. R. R. Hadley, pastor of the Universalist church, chose as his subject for the address of the day, "Calico Hash". He introduced his talk as just odds and ends of thoughts collected by a plain person and served without much style. Community welfare may be just a problem of saving the left-overs that otherwise go to waste.

The main theme of his address covered the three principal ingredients of the "hash" to contribute to community welfare—as marginal thrift, becoming a land owner, and using our marginal man-power for the good of others. He paid a high tribute to the work of the Boy Scouts, referring to the head of the Arlington Division, Mr. Charles H. Higgins, who was present.

Most of Rev. Hadley's illustrations were taken from the quotations and activities of Benjamin Franklin, whose birthday falls on the seventeenth of January. Birth control would have been unfortunate in the Franklin family, as Benjamin was the fifteenth child. Franklin was one of the first exponents of prohibition, culminating in the 18th Amendment. The speaker enriched his address by a number of pertinent Franklin quotations. With reference to thrift, Franklin said that "It is hard for an empty sack to stand upright." His appreciative audience expressed their feelings with vigorous applause.

MIDDLESEX SPORTSMAN'S TEAM BOWLING WELL

The bowling teams of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association made fine showings in the matches rolled on Wednesday evening of this week. In the Newton League—bottle pins—the M. S. A. took all four points, rolling a total of 2762, against Maugus Club's 1646. Yeager was the high man of the evening, with a score of 211, 217, 219, for a total of 638. In the Boston pins, M. S. A. broke even with Maugus, two and two.

ARLINGTON LOCALS

Mrs. Ralph Simonds, who has been confined to her home, 19 Wildwood avenue, for some time, was able to be out this week.

Church bells were rung for nine minutes Wednesday noon to celebrate the ninth anniversary of the passage of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Members of Russell Lodge of Masons, and their friends, spent a very pleasant evening last Saturday at the Masonic Temple. An entertainment which included selections played on a variety of musical instruments, was followed by bridge and dancing. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. Mr. Wallace Powers was chairman of the committee, which included Mr. Benjamin Tickey and Mr. Arthur Sampson.

Miss Harriet Holt, who has been confined to her home on Pleasant street with a severe cold, is recovering. Her father, Mr. James O. Holt, recently recovered from a similar attack.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester N. Moody have been running a miniature infirmary at their home on Devereaux street, as three of their children have been confined to the house with severe colds.

Tickets for "A Trip to Scarborough", which will be given by the Jinye Players under the auspices of the Searchlight Club, February 12th, in the Town Hall, may be obtained of the members of the Club or at Blake's or by calling Arlington 0831-18Jan1w

Miss Frances Ahern, of 21 Webster street, and suite, had charge of the annual installation of officers of the Santa Maria Court, C. D. of A., of Winchester, on Thursday evening. Miss Ahern is district deputy for that district. She was accompanied by several members from St. Agnes Court.

The Missionary and Social Union of the First Baptist church met on Monday, January 14, at 10 a. m., for sewing. Luncheon was served at 10 o'clock by Mrs. Fred Douglas and her committee. At 2.30 the regular business meeting was held. The speaker guest was Mrs. Judson A. Ring from Sonabata, Belgium Congo. Miss Charlotte Davies played cello solos, accompanied by Miss Ruth Young, pianist.

The Altar Guild of St. Agnes church held its first whist party since the holidays Wednesday afternoon, in the Parochial School Hall. The prize winners were Mrs. Doherty, Mrs. Gibbons, Mrs. Lyon, Mrs. Dunbar, Mrs. Gillespie, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Keezer, Mrs. Quigley, Mrs. Morine, Mrs. Ahern, Mrs. Norstrum, Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Carroll, Mrs. Ledwidge, Mrs. Crowley and Mrs. Quinn. The consolation went to Mrs. Keane. The whist parties will be held every other Wednesday afternoon, the next one coming on the thirtieth.

David M. Mahoney Badly Injured In Auto Accident

Three Other Persons Suffer as Result of Slippery Road.

Last Saturday there were two bad automobile accidents on the Summer street boulevard, caused by slippery road which followed a rain and snow storm of the previous night. Both happened at about the same place—one in the morning and the other in the afternoon.

The first was at 8.25 a. m., when Eatin' Mosher, of 27 Locke street, Cambridge, was about opposite 251 Summer street. The machine started to skid, and finally left the road, going over an embankment. It turned over three times, badly wrecking the machine. In the car with Mr. Mosher were George Dick of 36 Newbury street, Somerville, and George W. Phehan of 20 Newbury street, Somerville. All three were badly bruised and shaken up. The police ambulance brought them to the hospital. None was seriously injured, however, and they were able to leave the hospital later. Dr. Harold R. Webb and Dr. Francis E. Talty attended to their bruises.

About four o'clock on the same afternoon, David M. Mahoney of 211 Broadway, while driving a Chrysler car down Summer street, encountered similar difficulty when he reached the same spot. There was a truck coming in the opposite direction, operated by Henry D. Peterson, of 52 Gordon street, Somerville. In the truck were Mrs. Peterson and three-year-old daughter, Marion. Mr. Peterson attempted to get out of the way of the skidding machine driven by Mr. Mahoney, but failed, with the result that the two machines met. Mr. Mahoney was badly cut on the scalp and was taken to the Symmes Arlington hospital, where he will be for some time. The car he was driving was the property of Mr. Frank Maguire, proprietor of the Winn Filling Station at the corner of Summer and Mystic streets. Mahoney was taking gasoline to a stalled truck. One of the wheels on the car was completely demolished.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson and the little girl were not seriously injured, although their daughter received a deep gash on her face. They were all treated by Dr. Daniel J. Buckley, who happened to be passing at the time of the accident.

Miss Mildred Wilson entertained the Paquinke Club at her home on Academy street Monday evening.

Friday evening, January 11th, was the date of the annual meeting of the Orthodox Congregational church. It was preceded by a dinner, served by an out-of-town caterer, in the vestry at 6.30 p. m. Members who had been received into the church during the year were seated at a special table. A social hour followed the dinner, the meeting being called for eight o'clock.

Henry A. Kidder, who has served as moderator for a long period of years, dispatched that duty at this time. Routine business included the report by the clerk of the church, Albert W. Wunderly; that of the treasurer, E. G. Cobb, and auditor, Eben F. Dewing.

Other reports from the different departments in the church were read as follows: Rev. Edward A. Morris, church committee; Wilson D. Clark, Jr., prudential; Stanley E. Cook, music committee; Mrs. Stanley E. Cook, missionary committee; Mr. Robin Adair, Religious Education committee, director of Religious Education and Superintendent of Sunday School; Charles H. Swan, hospitality; Mrs. Ernest A. Snow, Bradshaw Missionary Association; Mrs. Robin Adair, Friendly Folk; Charles T. Staniels, Men of the Church; Mr. C. A. Morris for Troop Eight, Boy Scouts; Charles M. MacMillan, chairman of the nominating committee, presented a printed ballot of officers to be elected. This was accepted and the following were elected:

Deacons, 3 years—Henry A. Kidder, Edward N. Lacey; Deaconesses, 2 years—Mrs. C. T. Staniels, Mrs. Ernest A. Snow; Deaconess, 1 year—Miss Edith M. Fox; Clerk, Albert W. Wunderly; Treasurer, E. G. Cobb; Assistant Treasurer, Mrs. F. W. Wunderly; Collector, Stanley E. Cook; Auditor, Eben F. Dewing; Moderator, Henry A. Kidder; Superintendent of Sunday School, 1 year, Robin Adair; Church committee, 3 years—Henry D. Swift, Prudential committee, 3 years—Henry C. Guernsey; Music committee—Stanley E. Cook, Mrs. E. N. Lacey, Walter N. Cargill; Missionary committee—Mrs. Stanley E. Cook, Miss Ida M. Sword, Mrs. Mortimer H. Wells; Religious Education committee—Robin Adair, C. T. Staniels, Mrs. Frank B. Savage, Mrs. Wilson D. Clark, Jr., Mrs. Earle W. Brailey; Hospitality committee—Solon M. Bartlett, Albin Cameron, Frank W. Wunderly, Charles H. Swan, W. G. Rolfe, Mortimer H. Wells, Richard Bird, Mrs. G. Arthur Swan, Mrs. Stanley E. Cook and Mrs. Frank W. Wunderly. Mr. Morris, Miss Fox and Mr. C. T. Staniels were chosen delegates to the Greater Boston Federation.

FEW CONTAGIOUS DISEASES REPORTED IN ARLINGTON

The town map in the Board of Health office in Robbins Memorial Town Hall remains comparatively free of the colored pins that indicate the presence of contagious diseases. There are a few more of the green pins that indicate measles—nine in all—and ten of the red pins that mean scarlet fever. This, with the one yellow pin for a case of diphtheria, is all of the color on the map. The doctors have been asked to report all cases of influenza; that is, any colds accompanied by severe prostration. So far only a few have been reported, not many more than last year. The same is true of pneumonia, by which the severity of a flu epidemic is judged.

DIRECTORS OF CHAMBER ENDORSE SELECTMEN'S LETTER

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce met in the rooms of the chamber on Friday evening, of last week, to make arrangements for the February meeting. At that time the directors went on record as endorsing the letter issued by the Selectmen relative to the street car service in this town. They also voted to draft a protest direct to the Boston Elevated Officials relative to this same matter. Unless some action is taken by the officials, the Chamber of Commerce will refer the matter to the Public Utilities Commission for their action. The matter of the speaker for the coming meeting was left with the president. The members will be notified in their circular prior to the meeting. Only three resignations were received at this time. This is one of the smallest number ever received at the end of the year.

Lewis MacBrayne To Speak At Safety Council Meeting

At the next meeting of the Arlington Street and Highway Safety Council, Thursday, January 24th, Mr. Lewis MacBrayne of the Massachusetts Safety Council will be present and tell the members of our council what they can personally do to promote greater safety on the streets of Arlington.

The meeting will be held in the hearing room of Robbins Memorial Town Hall. A reel of moving pictures will be shown, giving much useful information on traffic in our congested districts.

A cordial invitation to attend this meeting is extended to those who are not members of the council, but who are interested in our safety campaign and would like to hear Mr. MacBrayne.

Monday evening in Ye Lantern, a well attended dancing party was held, under the auspices of the "Four Pals". The committee was Miss Betty Donovan, Miss Catherine Cosgrove, Miss Margaret Sexton and Miss Josephine Corrikan. The young ladies were assisted by a group of young men and women from the various Silver Lake clubs.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT ISSUES SIX PERMITS

Business in the office of Building Inspector Gratto took a sharp drop last week, when but six building permits were issued. Three of these were for one-family residences, and one for a two-family. The total value was $28,825. They were issued as follows: Alice Carpenter, 38 Mystic Lake drive, addition, $450; I. D. Gough, 40-42 School street, two-family, $8,500; Benjamin J. Gott, 135 Charlton street, tool house, $75; Joseph F. Kelly, 321 Park avenue, one-family, $5,800; E. S. Johnson, 145 Park avenue extension, one-family, $5,000; Carter, Brothers Realty Trust, 5 Venner road, one-family, $9,000.

Give Valuable Information Regarding "Mental Testing Movement In Education" on Thursday, Jan. 10.

On January 10, at the home of Mrs. Arthur A. Lawson, on Ravine street, Dr. Edward A. Lincoln, of the Harvard Graduate School of Education, talked to the Searchlight Club concerning "The Mental Testing Movement in Education".

From the beginning of formal education, Dr. Lincoln pointed out, the making of examinations and their administration was wholly in the hands of the teachers. These examinations and the marks assigned on the basis of them were not very reliable, and when the general movement to make education more scientific got under way it was soon realized that a more precise measuring instrument for pupil accomplishment was necessary. There was some interesting pioneer work in this line, which began to bear fruit about 1910 in the appearance of the so-called standard tests and scales. After this the growth of the movement was very rapid until at present there are well over a thousand tests of this sort.

The standard test is different from the teacher's examination in three important ways. First, it is scientifically constructed. The standard test maker takes great pains to find out the important things in his subject by consulting many text books, teachers, business people, college entrance examinations, courses of study and other sources. Then he makes a tentative set of questions which are submitted for criticism to teachers and other interested persons. On the basis of their reactions an experimental form of the test is made which is tried out with the children. The results of this trial are the basis for further modification, revision and try-out, and this process goes on until the maker is satisfied he has a valid and reliable measuring instrument.

Objectivity is the second characteristic of the standard test. By this is meant that as little chance as possible is allowed for the personal opinions of the givers or correctors of the test to influence the process of testing or the results. Standard directions are devised, which must be read verbatim every time the test is given. Time limits are carefully

MENOTOMY CHAPTER HEARS TALK ON ELLIS ISLAND

Members of Menotomy Chapter, D. A. R., had the pleasure at their first meeting of the New Year which was held last Friday, of hearing Mrs. Henry Reuben Grant speak on "Ellis Island and Conditions There". Mrs. Grant, in her charming manner, pictured vividly the buildings with their huge rooms filled with immigrants, the racks with bundles of every description, the side with the many windows and the tables where they work on clothes and anything to keep busy. Then there is the school in charge of Mrs. Pratt, maintained by the Congregational Society. In 1922 the D. A. R. was granted permission to take charge of the work, which is very interesting. The eight detention rooms are conducted by the D. A. R. alone. The beds are all changed daily and a fresh towel and new soap given to everyone. The busiest period is from June till September.

Business of the afternoon included the election of delegates to the Continental Congress to be held at Washington, D. C. They are as follows: Miss Caroline Higgins and Mrs. Eugene L. Frost, with alternates—Miss Evelyn Frost, Mrs. Morton, Mrs. Philip E. Hubbard, Mrs. Roycroft, Mrs. Florence Clark, Mrs. L. E. A. Smith, Mrs. Atwood, Mrs. Mortimer Wells and Miss Cairn Higgins. The report, Miss Caroline Higgins, spoke of the open meeting which will be held February 1st, when Col. Harrison S. Kerick will speak on his book, "Your Flag and Mine". In the absence of Mrs. Lombard, the Flag Lesson was read by Mrs. Morton.

During the social hour which followed Mrs. Grant's talk, refreshments were served by the hospitality committee, Mrs. Charles F. Atwood, chairman.

Leonard W. Buell To Give Free Organ Recitals

On Saturday afternoons of January 19th, February 16th and March 16th, Mr. Leonard W. Buell, organist of the Orthodox Congregational church, is to give free organ recitals at 4.30 in the church auditorium. They will last but an hour. The program on Saturday will be as follows: "Impromptu", Dunham; "Offertoire", Filby; "Funeral Marche", Tchaikovsky; Overture to "Poet and Peasant", Suppe; "Largo from New World Symphony", Dvorak; "Fiat Lux", Dubois.

KIWANIS TO CELEBRATE ITS ANNIVERSARY

"The Arlington Kiwanis Club will join with 1758 other clubs of Kiwanis International in the United States and Canada during the week of January 20 to 26 to observe the 14th anniversary of the organization's founding," the club president, Ray Mauger, declared today.

The first Kiwanis club was organized in Detroit and the first meeting was held on January 21, 1915. The International organization, therefore, recognizes January 21st as the anniversary date. "Kiwanis has had a remarkable growth," he said. "At present there are 1758 clubs with a membership of over 102,000. O. S. Cummings, of Kansas City, is the International president."

"During our anniversary observance the club will stress the major objectives for 1929. These are: underprivileged child work, vocational guidance and placement, rural-urban relations, citizenship endeavors, and other general social and civic undertakings."

"The Arlington club is now 4 years old, and we hope to have a fitting observance along with the other 102,000 Kiwanians on the North American continent. The club's program is now being prepared by the committee on Kiwanis Education, which is composed of Franklin P. Hawkes, Chairman, and Albert Wunderly."

At the last meeting, Hobbs Gott, Chairman of the local board of selectmen, was the guest and expressed his appreciation of the cooperation and interest shown by the members in public affairs. "Spin" Wunderly made a report of the district meeting held at the Hotel Statler on Tuesday evening of last week.

"Doc" Beaton, who is chairman of the attendance committee, outlined his plans for an attendance contest, which will start at once. "Doc" also won the attendance prize.

The Middlesex Sportsman's Association for the second time sponsored a musical show under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Philbrook. It was presented Thursday and Friday evenings of last week in Robbins Memorial Town Hall, and entitled "The Aeroplane Girl", a musical comedy.

Because of the interest in flying, it was especially timely, and an added interest was injected into the presentation from the fact that one of the principal characters, "Andy Carter", who is the author of what has become the most popular book of the season, "The Aeroplane Girl", was taken by Mr. Carey Pridham, a real aviator, and husband of the leading lady of the performance, Anna Fellows Pridham. Robert Sproul was cast for the part, but less than a week previous to the performance he was operated upon for appendicitis. Mr. Pridham was obliged to fly over to New York on the day of the first performance, but a start before daylight landed him back in Arlington in time for the show.

The story of the comedy centers around "Andy Carter", whose health has become somewhat impaired after writing his book, "The Aeroplane Girl", and he goes on a vacation in the Berkshires with his bosom pal, Peter Pike (Kenneth McLeod and his publisher, Phil Ashton (Wm. C. Watson). Although the mild-mannered and unassuming Andy has never set foot in an airplane, the irrepressible Peter spreads the report that the thrilling aerial exploits described in the book are Andy's own personal experiences. In consequence the young author becomes the idol of the resort's feminine contingent, especially the delectable Marjorie Hicks (Anne Fellows Pridham), with whom Andy falls violently in love. Jacques Porelle (Warren Lindberg) of the French Flying Corps, appears on the scene, and the hotel guests plan an airplane race between the luckless Carter and the famous French ace, who also has fallen in love with Marjorie and hopes to win her by showing up his rival as a fake flyer, as he believes him to be. However, in spite of his ignorance regarding flying, Andy is successful, and all ends happily for him and Marjorie.

The clandestine lesson in the art of aviation given by a mechanic ("Brad" Swift) with the aid of "Phil Ashton" and "Peter Pike", was one of the best bits of acting in the comedy.

There were but two acts and one scene. The first opens with a snappy chorus, showing Winnie Winn (Edith Yeager) answering calls as to where Mr. Carter may be found. Until at last Mr. Carter, "Andy", says tell them "I'm dead". There were tuneful choruses given by a group of well known High School girls. Their different costumes and ensemble work was a feature of the show.

The musical synopsis in the first act included Miss Yeager and chorus; "Some Day" by Mrs. Pridham and Miss Lawlor; "Going Up", Mr. Lindberg and chorus; "When You and I Were Dancing", Gertrude Irwin, Barbara Cathcart and dancers; "Nothing Could Be Sweeter", Miss Lawlor and Mr. McLeod; "Down! Up!", Pridham, Watson, McLeod and Swift; "I Won't Say I Will", Mrs. Pridham and Mr. Lindberg; "The Campus Hop", Dorothy Allen, Frances Pike and Co-eds, with the finale by the ensemble. In this act Miss Phyllis Blake gave a gracefully executed solo dance, assisted by other dancers, entitled "The Tanglefoot". She made a pretty and graceful figure as she glided about the stage. Mrs. Pridham's duet, "I Won't Say I Will", was captivatingly sung. Her charming, unaffected manner and sweet voice were delightful. In fact her entire work in the show was splendid. Mr. Pridham also is to be congratulated on the way he sustained his role.

"Brad" Swift took the audience by storm, both in his make-up and his acting. He was capital. Mr. McLeod's sweet tenor voice was heard to advantage in his duet with Miss Lawlor, whose voices blended in sweet harmony. The "Down! and Up!" song by Pridham, Watson, McLeod and Swift, was one of the hits of the show. Miss Lawlor carried her role with great acceptance.

The numbers in the second act, by Mr. McLeod and the "Lace Girls", "Pretty Things", was one of the most spectacular pieces of the comedy, especially the costume of Elizabeth Indian Troubles, and Punishment.

May 15, 1850. Under this date, Mr. Blake goes on with his narrative of how the miners, after having heard of several murders of white men, in isolated places, by the Indians, now felt compelled to organize a party to seek out and punish the marauders. He writes:—

"There have been four or five white men killed, in the neighborhood of Johnson's Ranch. It is probable that the same band of Indians is doing all of this devilry. A man who wanted to drive his wagon to the Rough and Ready diggings, and who had been up there before, and had found the Indians troublesome, told me that, this time, he was going fully armed, and that he would shoot the first Indian, in that region, he saw. He started, and had got on his way about 35 miles when two men met and passed him, at about 2 p. m. Before they got out of hearing distance, they heard cries for help. Not being armed, these men could render no assistance, and they hurried along."

"At about 4 o'clock, four men came along the same road, and found an empty wagon standing—the cattle unyoked and gone, and the yokes lying in the road. As it is not uncommon to find wagons in the road, especially when the roads are muddy, they were not immediately surprised; but in looking around, they saw blood, and signs of a deadly struggle which had taken place. They traced back, and discovered that there must have been a running fight. There must have been from 15 to 30 Indians in the raid, for they had carried off all the contents of the wagon, and the ground showed evidence of there being a large number in the attacking party. They could see that the struggle had been most severe, and they found where, at least, three Indians had lain in their blood. Charley Matt had undoubtedly used his rifle to good effect, and, after that, his pistol, and then he had to have recourse to his bowie knife, which was a fine one, 14 inches long."

"Examination of the ground showed that he had been overpowered at about 50 yards from the wagon. The men could see where the body had been dragged from there to a distance of about 300 yards. A rope, around his neck, had been used, and the body was stripped of all its clothing except his shirt, which was very much torn. There were 12 arrows in his left side between the arm-pit and the hip bone, and one arrow below the left eye. It is a certainty that he did not yield up his life without manfully struggling for it."

"Charley Matt was a German by birth; came to the States when quite small; lived, for many years among tribes of Indians in the Rocky Mountains; had hunted, smoked, and fought with Indians, and knew their ways. He had a wife and five children who were living in Oregon. I was intimately acquainted with him, and had passed many pleasant hours in his company, listening to his tales of adventures. He was a steady, honest man who always had his home in mind, and the welfare of his children at heart."

"Before that body was laid in its last resting place, the hands of Justice had grasped the weapons to punish such an outrage on our fellow-citizen. 'To arms,' said one and all. A party was formed to raze the mountains, and spare not! Couriers were sent to different towns on feet horses. Algier Nicholas was to head the party. He knew the mountains better than any other white man here. Matt had been an old companion of his in the mountains. They had passed through many trying scenes together. And now, Matt's death, and a bereaved widow with young children, stirred him to avow that he would avenge the death of this old friend."

"The valley Indians, for 15 miles around here, volunteered to go with the party—for the mountain Indians are old enemies of theirs. They are not as numerous as the mountain tribes, and they have many things laid up against their old enemies, and Indians remember such things from generation to generation, and are ready for revenge when an opportunity occurs. They were glad, then, to go out against them in company with the whites. Nicholas took two of his vaqueros with him, and some 20, or more, from the rancho. They will be very useful as guides and scouts, and many of them are determined fellows who will sell their lives dearly when they come to the struggle."

May 17, 1850. "I was up town to see them off. Oh, how I did wish to go. My heart burned to be mounted, with my long rifle. But, of course, as Nicholas was to leave, I could not go. Someone must stay and take care of the place. The chief of our Indians, (Buchen) was a noble looking fellow. He presented a fine appearance as he sat on a powerful horse—he looked so calm, so stern. He is tall, straight as a ramrod, and well proportioned. Mr. N. has known him to walk 75 miles in a day. The Indians were in fine spirits. They were armed, mostly, with cutlasses and muskets."

Next Week—The combat with the Yuba Indians; the women prisoners; and incidents.

The second annual Family Night at the Middlesex Sportsman's Association was held last evening (Thursday) in the club house. A turkey supper, or rather dinner, came, followed with whist in the main hall. Messrs. McReavy, Watson and Borne had the evening in charge. These "Family Nights" are to come every third Thursday until further notice.

MRS. DALLIN TALKS ON NATIONAL THEATRE OF CZECHO SLOVAKIA

The Friends of the Drama met Thursday evening, January 10th, in the "little theatre" at the Middlesex Sportsman's Association club house. Mrs. George H. Bailey, the president, presided over the business session, which included the reading of reports by the secretary, Mrs. William A. Forbes.

The evening was then turned over to the chairman of the program committee, Mrs. Paul M. White. Mrs. Roscoe R. Perry gave the announcement of a performance by the Jitney Players, "A Trip to Scarborough", a play and music by Richard Brinsley Sheridan, February 12th, in Robbins Memorial Town Hall, sponsored by the Searchlight Club, for a donation to a memorial fund.

Mrs. Cyrus E. Dallin, whom the chairman announced was "one of the founders of the Friends of the Drama", was introduced to give a talk on the National Theatre of Czecho Slovakia as seen by her last summer in company with Mrs. Stella Marek Cushing. In recognizing Mrs. White's reference of her connection to the Friends, Mrs. Dallin said "the infant in swaddling clothes was now a full grown youth with money in its pocket", as noted from the secretary's report. Mrs. Dallin said she had endeavored to ascertain more information than she possessed from her visit to Czecho, regarding its theatre, from the Boston Library, the Weidner at Harvard, and from other libraries, but had been unsuccessful, but her recital of what she had observed left her audience with a realizing sense that she had used her eyes to good advantage. She described the theatre and then the play, "The Bartered Bride", which she and Mrs. Cushing witnessed in Prague, together with other unusual events that transpired during their visit to this interesting country.

Mrs. White then reviewed some of the plays in Boston at the present time. They included, "And So To Bed", being presented at the Plymouth; "Marco Millions", at the Hollis Street Theatre, one of the plays by the New York Theatre Guild; "The Whispering Gallery", at the Copley; "Mary Rose" was interestingly reviewed by Mr. Richard Bird.

Mrs. White announced that at the next meeting—February 14th—Mrs. George B. C. Rugg's play, "Moving Angle", would be given. Also "The Float", by Mrs. Gladys Black Wilcox, both members of the Friends of the Drama.

The evening was concluded with the reading of the one-act play, "Trifles", by Susan Glaspell, and which has been presented by the Provincetown Players. The play, which Mrs. White said, was "one of the greatest one-act plays ever written", was splendidly given by the cast selected, that included favorites of the Drama, whose dramatic work is well known for its merit. They were Mrs. Charles H. Hoxie, Mrs. Walter Vaughn, Mr. Herbert T. Stanger, Mr. Philip Burt and Mr. Karl Seidler.
